Early Returns

Despite the recent slide of the financial markets, people generally invest seeking a return on their investment. We've all invested in our 2022 Preceptorship. Already, God is bringing some exciting returns.

1. When Stephanie (med student at Northwestern University near Chicago) returned to school last month, she told her boss about her summer in California. Intrigued, he asked her to do a presentation on whole person care to the faculty physicians. So, this student was the expert among professionals!

2. Brian (med student at Univ. of Miami) and Grace (med student at Univ. of Tennessee) went from California to Nigeria to serve in SIM mission hospitals via our summer mission partnership. Now equipped to care for the physical and spiritual, they saw hundreds of patients.

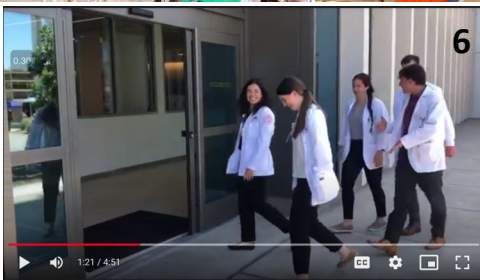

3. Valerie and Andrew (medical students at William Carey Med School) shared about the benefits of whole person care the their school's summer poster symposium.

4. Village children flock to Grace in Nigeria.

5. Valeria (nurse practitioner student at Yale) traveled to Columbia to minister in orphanages. Here she cares for a paralyzed child.

6. For future recruiting, the 2022 students produced a video featuring preceptorship alums sharing how their own preceptorship experiences continue to shape and inform how they practice medicine today. To view the video, click here.

Thanks for praying and investing for eternal returns!
