Klaireece may be the youngest US medical student to ever attend our Whole Person Care Preceptorship. She was only 19 years old when she arrived in Redlands, just a few weeks before she was to begin medical school in California. She was eager to learn about living out her Christian faith as a physician. Once we met her, we saw that God was doing some exciting things in her life. And even though her med school peers were years older, none of the other students realized she was the age of most undergrad freshmen. She excelled in the training. In fact, she returned the following summer to work in a junior faculty role.

Klaireece is now thriving in her practice in Florida. And last fall, she served as a speaker at our first-ever Miami METS Whole Person Care Conference. Shortly after the conference, our local host, Cru staff Heidi Drake, sat down for a quick chat.

We hope you'll take time to find and watch this 3 minute conversation. It highlights Klaireece's personal and professional journey and can be found at <https://youtu.be/yqZCR5zjuCc>.

Through your prayers and gifts, together we're building more healthcare professionals like Klaireece. Thanks!!!!
